TĒNĀ KOUTOU,

Welcome to the Big Screen Symposium. We are delighted to bring you together again for two days of conversations that we anticipate will be energising, inspiring – and provocative.

Our 2018 programme is crafted around Tuning into the Zeitgeist, asking us to turn our attention to the wide world we are a part of. How do the characteristics and the politics of our times manifest in our imaginations, both collectively and individually?

To investigate this with us is an esteemed line-up of speakers whose work has often challenged the status quo – having a real impact on audiences and communities. And whatever your views about your work and about the world at the start of day-one we hope you will have had at least one paradigm shift by the end of day-two.

On behalf of Script to Screen and J&A Productions, we thank all of you for the community spirit you bring to the Big Screen Symposium and we wish you a wonderful weekend of conversations together.

Naku noa nā,

Esther Cahill-Chiaroni

Big Screen Symposium Director
